Teacher Accused of Cruelty at Hectic Hearing

Mrs. Trethewey Faced by Children Bringing Charges of Mistreatment

By FRID C. SEIBY
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Cruelty charges against a Pottstown area teacher were made under oath yesterday at a stormy, four-hour hearing that was highlighted by exchanges of loud, heated remarks between opposing lawyers, and by the quiet, halting accusations of little children.

The defendant is Mrs. Mary H. Trethewey, Boyertown, teacher of First and Second grade pupils in the Covebrookdale school of Douglass township, Berks county. The hearing, first of its kind in the Pottstown area in recent years, was held in that school.

The parents bringing the charges want the board to dismiss Mrs. Trethewey. Under State law, a teacher cannot be dismissed unless found guilty of serious charges at a full hearing of the case. The parents also circulated a petition demanding she resign. More than 160 residents signed it.

YESTERDAY SCORES of residents most of them openly hostile to Mrs. Trethewey waited in the school corridor or under the half open windows of the hearing room. Spectators (but not newspaper reporters) were barred from the hearing room.

When the hearing, which began at 10 a. m., was adjourned at 3 p. m., Mrs. Trethewey walked out of the classroom, head high. Several dozen people standing in the hallway turned and stared at her. Fumes Make Water Street Residents Ill

Residents in the 600 block of Water Street were sickened yesterday from gas fumes leaking from a faulty pipe.

Following a report to the Philadelphia Electric company, workmen repaired a leak in the service pipe in front of 655 Water Street during the afternoon.

After the workmen finished the job and left, residents reported the fumes were heavier than ever, and several children vomited.

A company crew returned to the scene at 9 p. m. and checked the area for more leaks but found none. A supervisor said the pipe repaired earlier had probably been leaking for several weeks, and a large quantity of gas had collected under the street surface.

2 Youths Hurt, Car Wrecked in Rt. 422 Crash

A Pottstown RD 3 youth was injured seriously and his late model coupe demolished early yesterday morning when the car ran out of control along Route 422 in Douglass township.

Mable R. Stoudt, 20 son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin M. Stoudt, Glasgow, was reported in satisfactory condition by a Pottstown hospital spokesman last night.

He suffered multiple cuts of the body and an undetermined injury to the lower back. X-ray reports were not available last night.

Donald Large, 20, of 361 Jefferson Avenue, a front seat passenger in the battered auto, was treated at Memorial hospital after he plunged through the windshield and landed on the mashed hood.

Large said he was knocked through the right windshield and sprained on the hood. During the skidding and collision with the guard rail, Large lost his left shoe. He found it near the dented right front wheel.

He found Stoudt in a ditch. Large explained Stoudt got up and ran to a halt after striding a zulu.

Those entering pets in the show will wear bright colored ribbons. Prize will be awarded to children owning the largest and smallest (Continued on Last Page)

Stores to Remain Open Until 9 p. m. Thursday

To accommodate shoppers, stores in Pottstown will stay open until 9 p. m. Thursday, because of the League of Women Voters' annual picnic on Friday, July 4.

Today's shopping hour will be the same as for every Wednesday with stores staying open a half day from 9:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. Normal schedule will be in effect Saturday with clerks on duty from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Salvation Army Leaders Given Farewell by Friends, Workers

By FRID C. SEIBY
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Fighting back the tears that had welled in her eyes, most of the night Mrs. Sr. Capt. Meral E. Cox of the Salvation Army, last night told 150 friends with deep emotion that my heart is overwhelmed by the thought he must leave Pottstown today after 10 years of service here with her husband.

Among the friends she faced from the small stage in the Army's citadel chapel at 131 King Street were members of the Army Ladies auxiliary and a number of borough firemen to whom the captain had served coffee many times a fire.

They had gathered to pay tribute to the young couple for the work done in the borough in the past ten years, and bid them farewell before they leave with their children in assume the direction of the York citadel.

Clutching the program in an attempt to check the emotion which filled her, Mr. Cox said, "I really don't know what to say. I'm just living in a great bubble that's going to break tomorrow. My heart is over whelmed."

Continuing in the same vein, Captain Cox said, "I feel there will never be another one like Pottstown. We pray that God will bless you, yours and your homes. Our experience has been just the way we wanted it. You've been wonderful to us and we appreciate it."

"This is home to us. Our roots have grown deep in Pottstown not just because we wanted to but because you've made them grow deep."

He praised the local citadel's advisory board as an economic none in the Salvation Army, lauded the hundreds who have worked vigorously with himself and his wife particularly the ladies auxiliary and reminded them of his coffee dispensing for the firemen a custom for which he (Continued on Page Two)

A twisted heap of steel and upholstery was all that remained after a 1947 coupe clipped off two guard rails along Route 422 in Douglass township early yesterday morning. Mable R. Stoudt, 20, of Pottstown RD 3, driver of the completely demolished auto, was reported in "satisfactory" condition in Pottstown hospital last night.

Leonard Beckel of 181 East Race Street, Stouffville, examined the wreckage at 5 a. m. Leonard and daughter Janice were delivering The Mercury for his son Richard, on Groomstown road when they heard the crash.

Guard Religion, Road Dispute Faces Limerick Supervisors

By HARRY R. NEMCOFF
(Mercury Staff Writer)

The Limerick board of supervisors faced twelve angry township residents last night over a dispute involving the paving of the road on which the people live.

The residents said the controversy arose because the board had promised to black top the 1 1/2 mile dirt road known as Heffner road but at the last minute reversed its decision and is now in the process of improving another road.

Mrs. Joseph Schmitt, accompanied by her husband at last night's meeting, said that several months ago Roy Miller, road superintendent for the board had told her of the change in plans.

"I immediately took up a petition for the improvement of our road and had it signed by 13 out of the 14 families involved and sent it in to Mr. Miller on June 13," she said, adding that she never received a reply.

Miller, who acted as spokesman for the board, based his case on the fact that the road was not on the list of roads to be paved.

Miller pointed out that "Sunday laws are being put in operation in the East especially and Pennsylvania is no exception to God will be delivered from persecution as He has promised. The conditions of the faith however must be met before Our Lord's Second Return."

The group, led by Miss Eleanor Land, Miss Nancy Supple and Mrs. Naomi Hartman, discussed a recent troop picnic at Monticomey county park, and spent the remainder of the meeting time playing games.

Attending were: Janice Bechtel, Barbara Boone, Judy Boyer, Joanne Geisler, Catherine Gilbert, Geraldine Hary, Janet Leiberman, Yvonne Lucas, Judy Yost, Charlene Widger, Theresa Weiss, Janice Weaver, Barbara Tatman, Mary Slaby, Dorothy Norris, Evelyn Morello, Carole Weaver, Pamela Hoffman, Sophie Widger, Elaine Krigilo and Judy Slaby.

Mrs. DeLong Is Honored With Surprise Shower

Mrs. Warren DeLong, 990 Terrace Lane, was honored with a surprise stork shower Monday night in the home of Mrs. John Thomas, 918 Hale street.

Decorations consisted of an array of carnations below a spring-like can with streamers to which were attached toilettries for babies. A clothes line on the wall was hung with paper napkins to resemble diapers.

A buffet dinner was served and cards were enjoyed.

Attending were: Mrs. Marian Calkins, Mrs. Opal Haurry, Mrs. Carol Borgman, Mrs. Virginia Kiehne, Mrs. Cecil Swensford, Mrs. Ruth Frantz, Mrs. Florence Hartenstein, Mrs. Grace Heffner, Mrs. Dorothy Hilborn, Mrs. Hazel Warner and Mrs. Helen Blum.

Mrs. Andrew Kriczky Feted at Bridal Shower

A bridal shower, in honor of her recent marriage, was held recently for Mrs. Andrew Kriczky, 119 North Washington street, by Miss Betty Anne Sleppe, Linfield, in her home.

Mrs. Kriczky is the former Miss Jacqueline Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Carr, of the Washington street address.

Streamers of blue and white were attached to a miniature bride doll. A buffet dinner was served following the opening of the gifts.

Attending were: Miss Barbara Wentzel, Miss Patsy Daniels, Miss Dorothy Matthews, Mrs. Anthony Confino, Mrs. John Nash, Mrs. Richard Felegly, Miss Mary Kurtz and Miss Joyce McElroy.

Federated BPW Clubs Endorse Two Women As National Candidates

BOSTON, July 1 (AP)—The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, representing 150,000 women in the United States, Alaska and Canada, today unanimously endorsed two prominent women as vice presidential candidates on the Republican and Democratic tickets.

U. S. Senator Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me) was the choice for GOP candidate. District Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, Tex., was endorsed as the Democrat.

Judge Hughes, president of the national organization, was presiding when the resolution was adopted. She said: "I am not so naive as to believe that we will have a woman vice president this year, but we do have to get into the political arena and fight."

The resolve, submitted at the 11th biennial convention of the organization, said: "It is desirable and important that women have proper representation in top-level positions in our democracy and participate in the extensive powers and functions of our national government."

Judge Hughes said women have been willing too long "to stuff letters and lick stamps in campaigns rather than press for participation in planning." They have waited "too long to be wooed," she added, "forgetting that in politics every year is leap year."

Full citizenship would mean, she said:

1. More women running for and elected to public office.
2. Abolishment of legal discrimination against women.
3. More women willing to accept responsibility.
4. An "international attitude" — the realization by American women that what happens all over the globe affects this country.

Texas Housewives Lose First Round In Fight Over Taxes

DALLAS, July 1 (AP)—The Marshall, Tex., housewives who refuse to pay social security taxes on their servants' wages lost in federal court today but announced they will carry their fight to a higher tribunal.

Federal Judge William H. Atwell ruled the federal government is within its constitutional rights in requiring housewives to withhold the tax.

Martin Dies, former congressman who gained fame as chairman of the house un-American activities committee, is attorney for the 13 housewives. He announced an appeal will be made to the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans and then to the U. S. Supreme Court if the housewives lose at New Orleans.

Complainants in the last case were Mr. and Mrs. James K. Abner. Mrs. Abner has been the leader of the group which claims the government has no right to force housewives to serve as involuntary collectors without pay. The Abners asked return of $2.51 seized from their bank account by federal agents last year.

Judge Atwell, his dander up because several attorneys failed to appear in earlier suits today, told government prosecutor William S. Waldo at the outset of the trial that "withholding taxes are a nuisance." He said "I never even see part of my salary."

Cruelty Charged at Hearing

at the school all day, quickly stepped to Mrs. Trethewey's side.

As she walked to the nearby exit with this escort, many people in the crowd set up a better mock cheer that quickly turned into a chorus of boo and disapproving mutterings.

The hearing which heard only anti-Trethewey witnesses yesterday was adjourned until Aug. 4 after attempts failed to find an earlier date suitable to all principals.

SPECIFIC ACCUSATIONS made yesterday by three 7 and 8-year-old children ranged from pushing a desk top down on a girl's arm to making a boy with chronic foot ailment stand in a corner for about four hours to shoving a boy onto the floor.

Mrs. Trethewey's attorney, M. Bernard Hoffman, Reading, cross-examined all witnesses vigorously, trying to show that the accusations were distorted versions of ordinary disciplinary action.

Sometimes the children stuck rather firmly to their story. Other times they modified it. Under cross-examination one boy admitted that he had put on a snoring act three times one day before Mrs. Trethewey lost her temper.

The parents testified to the stories that the children had told them of the incidents at the time Hoffman's chief line of attack against the parents testimony was to ask why in several cases the parents had made no protest at the time the incidents occurred.

The man representing the parents, Pottstown Attorney Louis Sager, said as a rebuttal that the parents did not protest several incidents at the time because they were afraid this would bring their children more trouble at school.

THE TESTIMONY was interrupted frequently by loud clashes between the short stocks flushed faced Hoffman and the tall broad shouldered Sager.

A typical burst of such dialogue went about like this:

Sit down. You sit down. That's the law. You don't know the law. You can't say that. I am saying that. Shut up. You shut up.

Occasionally the attorneys injected a touch of humor into these exchanges as when Hoffman shouted: You ought to be a street car conductor not a lawyer or when Sager said to Hoffman when Hoffman looked his most belligerent: What do you want to do, raise or something?

The two principal principals yesterday were Ralph C. Boddy, Boyertown veteran school board solicitor who referred the other attorney's squabbles and generally acted as judge and Mrs. Trethewey herself.

OF THE four board members who attended the hearing, Boddy ruled tentatively that one Baker, T. Gresh Pottstown RD 1 board secretary, would be ineligible to Trethewey as saying: You don't vote on the question of whether to dismiss Mrs. Trethewey.

This ruling was based on a State law disqualifying board members from voting on such a question who are related to complainants. Gresh, town physician, testified that the boy had to be given sedatives for more than a week after this incident, and that the boy had a tendency of the liver area that he believed had been caused by the pushing.

Hoffman tore into the mother's testimony by asking why she had just stand there during this alleged mistreatment and by pointing out that the boy was sent to the closet to take off his coat which he had done and that the boy had been as - in return to school the next day.

The defense attorney also drew from the boy the admissions that he liked school generally, that he'd been getting good marks, and that he had gotten along all right with Mrs. Trethewey most of the time.

The other two children's testimony followed the same pattern but did not have the advantage of being backed up by an eye witness account of a parent.

Robert Stringfellow, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. Stringfellow (both of whom testified) said:

And that day (the boy was hazy on time) she pushed my head down on the desk and it started bleeding my nose and one day she was reading a story to me and we acted like we were snoring.

AFTER HE and another boy were put into the hall for snoring which they did repeatedly, the child admitted she pulled my hair - my ear until it started bleeding and she pulled a piece of Jimmy's (Gresh's) hair, he said.

The Stringfellow boy, who is foot ailments include flat feet and fallen arches also said: Some times she made me stand (in the corner) an hour two hours some thing like that. Once he said he stood in the corner about four hours.

He also said Mrs. Trethewey told him once: Boy, you can't be in the play, Robert, because you walk like a duck.

The teacher never hurt you, said the Robert Hoffman asked during his cross examination.

The 8-year-old frowned, smiled, said: Ummm, then added: Not hard.

The final child witness was Sherry McElvree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McElvree, Boyertown RD 2, who said that Mrs. Trethewey had smacked her arm with a ruler once and on another occasion had brought the desk top down on her arm. My arm was black and blue, the girl said.

Her parents were waiting to testify when the hearing adjourned.

Our darling son enjoys baseball on TV much more when I serve him hot dogs and pop.

alarm at Beech and Grant streets Saturday night at 11 o'clock.

PLAINCLOTHSMAN J. F. W. M. Borgiet and Patrolman Thomas Corum arrested White Monday on charge of making the alarm.

Kelley told White: You are really fortunate the State law isn't being invoked. The borough ordinance isn't as stiff.

Kelley pointed out the State law provides for a jail sentence and a stiff fine. He added White's offense was more serious than it might appear.

He referred to the firemen who reported to the scene and the possibility of injury to those firemen and to pedestrians or motorists which might occur just because of a false alarm.

The Second ward justice of the peace said White admitted saving to a crowd on the corner of Beech and Grant streets after his arrival at 11 o'clock Saturday night. Let's clear the corner boys.

Hunters Are Warned Again to Wear Caps With Bright Colors

After the first two days of groundhog season, Richard F. Blair, deputy county game protector, said yesterday that despite his earlier plea for caution many hunters were seen in the field without brightly colored caps.

"Bare human heads peeping out from behind a bush can be very deceiving at long distances," he warned, "and many finger happy groundhog hunters have shot other hunters through the head thinking they were firing at the fur covered animal."

Blair also stated that the time schedules for hunting in the Pennsylvania Game Laws pamphlet were computed for standard time and therefore hunters should interpret the 6 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. to mean 7 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. according to daylight saving time.

Many hunters were reported to be out this season with the number increasing towards evening after working hours.

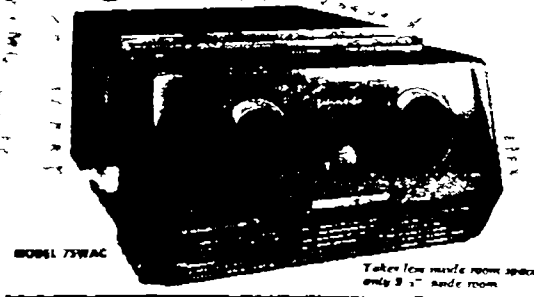

Postponement Called On Lions Installations

The installation of newly elected officers scheduled by the Pottstown Lions club to take place at 8:30 p.m. last night's weekly dinner meeting was postponed because proper ceremonial arrangements could not be made.

Robert Weidner, spokesman for the Lions, said the installation will be held at the regular dinner meeting next Tuesday. He also announced that the group will meet from now on at the Eagle's Home association hall, 310 High street.

18-Vote Florida Delegation Nailed

GOP Committee Bans TV,
Radio at Contest Hearings

CHICAGO, July 1 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio nailed down most of the 18 vote Florida delegation today and the first victory in the crucial free for all over disputed delegates to next week's Republican convention.

And the Republican National committee apparently under control of Taft forces—banged the door on television, radio and pictures of any kind at its all important hearings on delegate contests.

Backers of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, battling it out with Taft for 72 disputed delegates and the GOP presidential nomination showed no immediate inclination to carry the Florida case any further. They could appeal to the convention credentials committee and then to the convention itself.

But some of them were taking the position the general wasn't much concerned about the Florida dispute, on grounds that it involved primarily two rival delegations and both were largely for Taft to start with.

Nevertheless it would have been a setback for the Ohio Senator had the decision gone any other way. What the National committee did unanimously was to decide that a regular Florida delegation should be seated when the convention raises the curtain next Monday.

Stassen Asks
GOP Platform
Of Civil Rights

CHICAGO, July 1 (AP)—Former Governor Harold F. Stassen of Minnesota kicked up trouble for Republican platform drafters today by proposing foreign policy labor and civil rights plank objectionable to strong party factions.

Appearing in person before resolutions subcommittee set up to get varying platform views Stassen—himself a contender for the GOP presidential nomination—advocated a foreign policy of championing the world's underprivileged peoples in their search for freedom and better economic conditions.

Stassen's recommendation came shortly after Senator Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado, a supporter of Sen. Robert A. Taft for the presidency, took over the key convention post in determining the party's stand on foreign affairs.

Taft has been a bitter critic of the Truman Administration's foreign policies and some of those espoused by what had been called the internationalist wing of the Republican party.

Long Fight Predicted
By Steel Spokesman

PITTSBURGH, July 1 (AP)—A top steel industry spokesman predicted today a long drawn out fight between the industry and the striking CIO United Steelworkers' prediction coming as the number of workers added by the walk-out soared to the million mark.

Charles M. Whitehead, head of Republic Steel in a telegram to Presidential Assistant John M. Steelman declared:

"We have fully explored the possibility of reconciling the union shop issue with the CIO and we see no possible area of compromise."

Reds Get Recess
MUNSAN, Korea, Wednesday, July 2 (AP)—The Communists are asked for and got a 24-hour recess in the Korean truce talks today on the heels of a painstaking Allied approach designed to break the long deadlock.

The Reds gave no reason for the delay. Some observers expressed the opinion that the Communists would need more time to study a lengthy review of the prisoner exchange problem given yesterday by the Allies.

In effect the Allies said they would scratch off their prisoner of war list the names of about 100,000 Reds who don't want to be repatriated.

Solution Predicted
TOKYO, July 1 (AP)—The mystery of why the Chinese Communist Air Force made no attempt to save the vital Yalu river power plant from destruction may be solved.

It may be that the U.S. Air Force chose June 23 for the smash raid because it knew the Reds didn't have just brought to Manchuria a full complement of green pilots for training.

Churchill's Gov't.
Beats Labor Motion
Over Yalu Question

LONDON, July 1 (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill's Conservative government today beat down a Labor party attempt to drive it out of office for not knowing in advance that American planes planned to bomb Communist power plants on the Yalu river.

The vote was 300 to 210 against Labor party motion of censure.

The Conservative victory came after Churchill warned the House against antagonizing American public opinion in a presidential year.

Churchill said that although the motion of censure was technically directed against his government it really falls on the United States.

HE SAID he hoped the bitter debate would not lead the American people to believe that the House of Commons is unfriendly or that we are simply naggers and faultfinders.

Replying to the Labor attacks Churchill praised the monumental patience of Americans in Korea and said:

There might easily come a time, especially during a presidential election, when a sharp reaction of emotion and even anger might sweep large sections of the American people and any caning raid because it knew the Reds didn't have just brought to Manchuria a full complement of green pilots for training.

3-Hour Prison Riot
Settled Peaceably

CONCORD, Mass., July 1 (AP)—Thirty-four tough prisoners rioted at Concord State reformatory today, surrendered meekly after holding two instructors and a guard hostages for nearly three hours behind barricaded doors of a store house.

The instructors and guard were released unharmed before the prisoners began pouring out of the store house to return to their cells.

The prisoners seized the guards in a sudden outbreak after they had been exercising in the yard. They moved rapidly through the kitchen and dining room taking the hostages as they went along and then barricaded themselves in the store room.

The prisoners surrendered shortly after State Corrections Commissioner Maxwell B. Grossman raced to the prison from Boston accompanied by one of his deputies. Grossman immediately began discussing grievances with representatives of the prisoners who complained about the food.

The instructors and guards seized by the prisoners were identified as Terry O'Leary of Marlboro Joseph Devine of Lowell and John Williams of Concord.

Thirty State troopers from Concord Andover and Topsfield barracks were rushed to the scene upon receiving the first alarm. They stood by while prison authorities convinced the men to surrender peacefully.

Object is to Keep People in Sector and Check Those Who Enter

BERLIN, July 1 (AP)—The Communists have started making a sinister "zone of death" around Berlin to keep people from leaving and have instituted a Gestapo-like check on those who enter.

The zone—first noticed today on the posite suburban Spandau in the British sector—resembles the no man's land created between East and West Germany where Germans setting foot in the area risk death.

West Berlin newspapers tonight called it a killing ground.

No shoot to kill orders have been announced in connection with the cleared area in the zone, but that presumably will come when the ring of forbidden ground is complete.

THE FIRST stretch is near the British sector airfield at Gatow. It runs through the woods along the well known Wilhelmstrasse which becomes the main road to Potsdam and Leipzig.

Witnesses said trees have been felled and bushes cleared from a strip between 30 and 50 yards wide making it impossible for people to cross the area unobserved.

Workers fitted with machine guns overlook the miles-long strip and tough East German police keep an eye on it.

HOUSTON, Tex., July 1 (AP)—Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina brought out into the open today the virulent threat of a South ern revolt against any Democratic presidential nominee who supports President Truman's civil rights program.

Byrnes laid before reporters at the annual Governors' conference the pattern of a possible post convention bolt. He said his own State, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas and possibly others might follow.

It consisted, principally, of election to keep the total of 62 electoral votes of the five states unpledged until after the Republican and Democratic conventions in Chicago this month. President Truman lost 39 electoral votes in the States rights revolt of 1948.

Byrnes, former secretary of State and Supreme court justice made it clear that so far as his own State is concerned the electors could be instructed to vote for a Republican or a third ticket stand ard bearer if the Democratic platform calls for a Fair Employment Practice commission (FEPC) with powers to enforce in the states its ruling against job discrimination.

And by indirectness Byrnes pinned an unacceptable label on Gov. Adlai F. Stevenson of Illinois being boomed for the Democratic nomination despite Stevenson's assertion that he doesn't want to run.

Stevenson said he favors State action on FEPC but added that if the states don't act, then the Fed-

West German Treaty
Is Ratified by Senate

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—The Senate today overwhelmingly ratified peace agreements bringing West Germany as an armed ally into the free world's mutual defense organization.

The United States thus became the first nation to approve all the documents hailed by sponsors as ushering in a new era of European cooperation.

The agreements do not become effective until ratified by parliaments of the other nations involved, including West Germany—a process sure to spark stormy debate and one that could consume many more months.

One agreement between the U. S., Britain, France and West Germany ends the Allied occupation of West Germany and returns the Federal republic of Germany to the family of nations as an almost equal member.

THE SENATE approved this pact 77 to 5 more than seven years after the downfall of Adolf Hitler's Nazi German regime in World War II in May, 1945.

A second document in the network of pacts signed in Europe the past month would create a European Defense community (EDC) with a single army of units from France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The Senate was not called upon to ratify the EDC contract but it approved an agreement tying EDC—and thus West Germany—to the North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO). The effect is for the U. S. and 13 other NATO members to extend their mutual defense guarantee to West Germany.

quite well with the sunny breezes of inebriated customers. The walls were lined with tanks of tropical fish and the whole effect was topped with waiters and bartenders garbed in the skins of various jungle animals. "What'll you have?" growled the bartender at Simon in his best gorilla fashion. "Gimme a beer," replied the awestricken Simon. The growl assumed a deeper quality. My good man the word beer must never pass the lips of visitors to the Zoo Grille. When ordering the beverage please refer to Tiger Tonic. Simon drank his glass of Tiger Tonic in one gulp and was happy enough to return to vacationing.

Amoeb's Groves

THE JEFFERY shore points hit the back pot again with four card Mr. and Mrs. Latshaw and their four children, Viola, Arnold, Ray and Junior, all of Plover, send their greetings from Wildwood.

Wildwood by the Sea

ANOTHER CARD from Wildwood is signed Ethel Falusi, Berks street and Eileen Hofer, 515 Queen street. They say: "We're spending five days in Wildwood, having fun and burning in a crisp."

Their card colorfully illustrates the boardwalk and the sea.

company until yesterday by William Schiel, 653 Water street. I've smelled it since the past week when I returned from Florida," said Mrs. Albert S. Reed of 655 Water street, but didn't know what it was.

When I walked into my back bedroom this morning the smell nearly knocked me out the door. So I asked my landlord, Mr. Schiel, to do something.

At 655 Water street, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Koenig, their 11-year-old niece, Delores, became ill at 6 p.m. and continued to throw up during the evening.

THE SMELL makes me sick to my stomach, said Mrs. Koenig.

At 650 Water street, Mrs. William F. Reed reported she felt drowsy during the evening and her 4-year-old daughter, Rickie, vomited continually.

Workers said the faulty pipe had been laid four years ago and blamed the old cinder filling in the ground for the deterioration.

Ground Broken for Sample Construction Of Home Development Near Royersford

A new development of 100 two-bedroom homes is in the process of construction this week at Lewis road and Oak street, just outside Royersford.

Ground was broken Monday for the project's sample home. The homes, all of which will have attached garages, are being built by Orchard Terrace incorporated. The planned sale price is between $10,200 and $10,500. The sample house will be open for inspection during the second week in August. The first 40 homes are expected to be ready for occupancy by Sept. 1.

Orchard Terrace, as the new development is called, will have the appearance of a Cape Cod village, as all of the homes will be in that general style of architecture. Exteriors of the new homes will be shingles, with cedar and asbestos in several blended color combinations.

All of the homes will have five rooms and bath, an attached garage, cemented cellar that can be converted into a game room and a full attic which permits expansion to two more bedrooms and a bath. The entire home measures 36 feet by 50 feet, including the garage, on a 70 by 145 foot lot.

THE LIVING room and dinette occupy the entire width of the house. Kitchen features include the serving bar between the kitchen and dinette, an exhaust fan located above the stove and all the other equipment of a modern kitchen, such as stove, sink, cabinets and work counters.

All of the homes will be heated by a forced hot-air system that can be used for air cooling in the summer.

CONCRETE MASONRY

Weather-SNUG

Warm in Winter... Cool in Summer!

The saying "Stone is a bear in a rug" surely fits the modern Concrete Masonry home. The reason is that Vibrapac Concrete Block hollow construction provides natural space of dead air space between outer and inner wall surfaces — this is one of the most effective of all types of insulation.

Vibrapac Concrete Masonry homes and other structures have been built in service in all climates — Iceland, tropical South America, the Philippines — as well as in every part of the United States. Neither rain, nor wind, nor heat, nor cold affects one crumb. It never rots but becomes stronger with age.

Weather "Snuggles" is only one of many features Vibrapac Concrete Masonry will give to your new home. Note the many other advantages.

Sunday School Picnic Will Be Held July 19
The correct date of the S. John's Evangelical Lutheran Sunday school picnic is Saturday, July 19. Other dates had been reported as being scheduled for the picnic but Harold Roth, general chairman of the picnic committee, said yesterday that July 19 is the proper date.
In Britain the corresponding automotive term for defroster is demister.

has become especially well known in the borough.

O. C. BEACRAFT, advisory board chairman, opened the testimonial with the remark to the Coxes' friends, "I know your hearts are heavy, but let's try to be a little happy tonight. Let's have some fun."

The Coxes were presented cash gifts by Mrs. Frances Lech, auxiliary president; Borough Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer, and Treasurer John F. Stamm of the advisory board on behalf of the units and men they represented.

Each praised the Coxes and wished them success in York. Stamm said, "If I were to stand here for an hour telling of their virtues and accomplishments we still could say not the half had been told."

Beacraft read a list of 16 borough business establishments that had given the Coxes the wrapped presents on a table on the stage.

BURGESS WILLIAM A. Griffith told the Coxes, "I don't know what we would have done without you. You've had a way of getting around our hearts that we couldn't resist," and added that the couple's departure is "bitter medicine."

Irvin W. Riegner, past chairman of the advisory board, asserted Cox "has done wonderful work not only here, but all over the community (Pottstown area). He and Mrs. Cox have left their mark of love. We shall always remember the ten years Captain and Mrs. Cox were here."

Mrs. Blanche Hipple, a member of the ladies auxiliary, delivered the invocation and benediction.

Musical and vocal entertainment was furnished by members of the Pottstown band and glee club and refreshments were served in the basement of the citadel after the testimonial.

Allied Raiding Party Inflicts Heavy Losses

SEOUL, Wednesday, July 2 (AP) — A big Allied raiding party thrust into Red territory Tuesday, captured a hill at heavy cost to the Red defenders, and then withdrew at dusk.

The battalion size (1000 man) patrol hit the Reds' main position. One unit attacked and won a Communist hill position in five hours of sharp fighting. Other units dug in north of the heights and blocked out Red reinforcements.

An Allied staff officer said the raiders counted 112 Reds killed, an estimated 145 more were killed or wounded.

The Eighth Army said its forces killed, wounded or captured, 11,318 Communist soldiers in June for the biggest month since last January.

Radio Writers Order Strike Against Network

NEW YORK, (Wednesday) July 2 (AP) — A radio writers' union ordered a strike against three major networks early this morning, threatening coverage of the forthcoming political conventions in Chicago.

The strike was called by the Radio Writers guild, an independent union belonging to the Authors League of America, against the American Columbia, and National Broadcasting company networks.

Accident Victim Hospitalized

Herbert Quinter, Good Will ambulance driver, raced to Pottstown hospital early yesterday with driver-victim Mahlon Stoudt, 26, of Pottstown RD 3. Stoudt was injured when his 1947 coupe rammed out of control along Route 422 in Douglass township. Quinter was assisted by Motor Patrolman Robert Schmidt (right) and Joseph Thees (center).

said he believed his back was broken.

THE JEFFERSON avenue youth told a passerby to call the ambulance and State police, and then departed with a trucker for Memorial hospital.

Large said he begged Stoudt to accompany him to the hospital but the latter insisted on remaining with his wrecked car until State police arrived.

With wallet and watch missing, Large, who was bleeding badly, departed with the truck driver.

All glass in the crumpled coupe was shattered or knocked loose. Tires were flattened and the rear axle was pushed half-way forward under the twisted frame.

ANTHONY SHARP of the Reading State police reported the car a total wreck. He said the accident occurred about 5 o'clock.

Herbert Quinter, Good Will Ambulance driver, rushed Stoudt to the hospital.

Parts of the pounded car were scattered in the field along the side of the highway.

Philadelphia had different ideas."

After thanking the Kiwanians for the defense bond they had given him and his wife as a farewell gift, Cox urged them to "stop in and see us when you get to York."

HE ADDED, laughing: "Just look for the cement plant; we're right across the street."

Stanley J. Davenport Jr., club president, previously had praised Cox for his "wonderful work" for the club and the borough and presented him the bond.

Fred Cadmus, president of the West Chester Kiwanis club, introduced 13 members of that club who were visiting the group with him.

C. Raymond Eppheimer and Dr. Paul Z. Hoffman described their three-week trip to, and attendance at, the June 15 to 19 Seattle convention of the Kiwanis International.

Top Communist Set Free by French Jury

PARIS, July 1 (AP) — A French grand jury tonight ordered France's No. 1 Communist Jacques Duclos set free at once.

Duclos has been in jail since May 28 on charges of plotting against French internal security by inciting riots. He was arrested during Communist-led rioting that coincided with the arrival in Paris of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, the NATO supreme commander.

The jury ruled that Duclos was not caught in the act of plotting against the security of the State.

As a member of the French National assembly, the lower House of Parliament, Duclos enjoys immunity from arrest unless caught red-handed committing a crime.

House Committee Clears Mine Bill for Action

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP) — A House rules committee today cleared for consideration a bill to give the Government authority to close down mines under certain dangerous conditions.

House leaders expected to waste no time in calling the measure up tomorrow or the next day. They said they may call it under a parliamentary procedure which would speed up debate but require a two-thirds vote for passage. The House is working to meet a July 5 adjournment deadline.

GOP Asked to Favor Ban of Union Shop

CHICAGO, July 1 (AP) — The nation's two largest groups of employers asked the Republican party today to favor a legal ban against compulsory union membership—such as the union shop asked by striking CIO Steelworkers.

The request for outlawing all types of forced union membership was made by the National Association of Manufacturers and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce in state letters to the GOP platform committee.

William J. Grede, NAM president, told a platform subcommittee on labor and public welfare, that labor laws should allow workers complete freedom in choosing whether they want to join a union, or refrain from being a union member.

The Taft-Hartley law roundly denounced today to the platform group by AFL and CIO leaders, bans the closed shop but allows the union shop.

Three Are Arrested On Loitering Charge

Three young men arrested at 9:30 o'clock last night for loitering at Beech and Grant streets after being warned several times not to do so by police will be given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus at 10 o'clock this morning.

The men, Randy Beasley, 26, of 323 Grant street; Jesse Hurt Jr., 23, of 792 Lincoln avenue; and Mahlon Butler Jr., 26, of 132 Minter street, were released after depositing forfeiture to assure their appearance for the hearing.

Motor Patrolman Stanley Borow, who made the arrests, said the men and others in the vicinity of the intersection, where a false fire alarm had been sounded at 11 p.m. Saturday, had been warned 20 minutes before the alarm was rung about loitering there.

Road Work Discussed By L. Frederick Board

Lower Frederick supervisors last night discussed progress on Summer work undertaken on township roads.

Supervisors conducted the routine monthly session in Ziegler ville hotel.

It was then brought up that Saylor's mother, Vinnie Saylor, was the owner of the property and should have been consulted on the matter. Miller acknowledged that he had failed to do this.

ELECTION PREDICTION

Nov. 4 will roll up the biggest vote in U.S. history. You don't need the pollsters to tell you that. You can tell by the excitement and talk of all your friends and neighbors.

The only IF in that prediction is that there's first got to be the biggest REGISTRATION in history. Remember: no register — no vote!

Already reports indicate people are flocking in unprecedented numbers to get their names on the voting lists. But a LOT more had better remember to register or there'll be a lot of left-out, let-down citizens sitting on the sidelines when they'd like to be in the thick of the most exciting — and most important — election in years.

decision to pave Airport road, also a dirt road approximately the same length as Hoffman road, on the fact that he had encountered opposition from Joseph Saylor, the sole resident who failed to sign the petition.

Miller declared that Saylor, who was absent from the meeting, had objected to the black-topping because it would mean that several trees fronting his property would have to be cut down.

"It was a choice of improving a road with opposition or without opposition, and I choose the latter course," said Miller.

Boiling Lye Water Is Dumped on Husband

MILWAUKEE, July 1 (AP) — A 28-year-old woman told police today she dumped a dishpan full of boiling water containing 26 ounces of lye over her husband because she "just wanted to make him suffer."

Mrs. Aime Lee Jones was charged with mayhem. Her husband, Henry 28, was in critical condition with burns on the face and body and facing possible loss of the sight in one eye.

Police said the incident occurred early today following an argument over Mrs. Jones' suspicious her husband was seeing another woman. They said she related she got up and went to the kitchen where she emptied two 13-ounce cans of lye into a dishpan full of water, heated it to boiling and dumped the contents over Jones as he lay in bed.

Now Cabinet Formed In Egypt by Premier

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, July 2 (AP) — Premier Designate Hussein Sirry Pasha has succeeded in forming a new Egyptian cabinet, sources close to the minister said today.

Earlier it had been reported that Sirry Pasha had given up his efforts to form a cabinet and King Farouk had asked Bahieddin Barakat Pasha to try. This was never officially confirmed.

Informants said Farouk is expected to issue royal decrees later today appointing new ministers to serve in an independent (non-party) cabinet with Sirry Pasha.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CEF

MANY guests have been blacklisted by hotels because towels were found in their suitcases. In the case of Playboy Wartel, however, the charge varied slightly. He had a chambermaid in his grip.

A man who owned a gymnasium in Des Moines recently despaired of getting customers to sign up for his moonlight hour of setting up exercises. A psychologist pointed out the flaw in his approach. Your sign Young Men's Noon Gym Class needs just a little alteration, he said. Next day a new sign proclaimed Young Executive's Noon Gym Class. Enrollments quadrupled within ten days.

Kansas floods had left a village in precarious condition and the pastor put on a monster rally to promote funds for repairs. Everybody got into the spirit of the occasion but the local scientist who grudgingly got to his feet and mumbled: "Okay, I'll contribute ten dollars." No sooner had he spoken than a big piece of plaster from the weakened ceiling became dislodged and it landed squarely on the head. Panic-stricken he cried: "I want to change my donation from ten dollars to a thousand." "Oh Lord," whispered the pastor, "let him again."

IT'S NICE TO BE POPULAR

Tickle Your Funnybone

The quality of the mess hall bread drew considerable complaints from the men. Finally a squad corporal went to the mess sergeant to present the mass protest.

Nonsense, snapped the sergeant. Soldiers shouldn't fuss over such trivialities. Why if Napoleon had had that bread when he was crossing the Alps, he'd have eaten it with delight.

Yeah, but it was fresh then, the corporal replied.

Keep teeth bright

Chew Wrigley's Spearmint Gum. Chewing helps keep teeth bright. Freshens taste, sweetens breath. Pleasant and to popularity.

ADVENTISTS —

that we should be ready to meet Jesus.

The sands of time are running low and how soon the final drama will be enacted no one can tell. Readiness is the key word.

Elder James F. Kent, publishing department secretary of the Columbia

JAMES F. KENT

Union conference. He addressed the 10 a. m. departmental meeting on the topic "This Is Your Hour."

If Christ were here in person today, said Elder Kent, He would not speak in terms of the year month week or day. Instead He would declare: "This is the hour. We're only a moment of time remaining. The Christian must budget his time and make each hour count."

Elder Kent continued: Time is the gift of God to be used in the winning of souls. Time is a talent that God requires a more exact accounting of than any other. In the business world a value is given to every tick of the watch but to us time means more than money.

HE CONCLUDED: The initial letters of Seventh Day Adventists mean "specific dynamic action."

At the 11:30 a. m. preaching service, Elder Paul Cantrell of Cincinnati discussed the problem of sin. Sin is broken up into three phases, he said. These are the sin of short coming, the sin of transgression and the sin of iniquity. In order to overcome sin one must be born again.

During the afternoon family hour Dr. Eva B. Dykes of Huntsville Ala. dramatized through the use of skits the proper home environment for children. Elder W. R. Robinson played the father and Mrs. Jacob Justice the mother. Mrs. Helen Sugland of Washington presented prepared answers to questions on family life.

Elder Dimbar Henry, recently returned missionary from Liberia, showed color slides on Adventist activities in that foreign land after the evangelistic service last night.

Principal speaker at tonight's service will be Elder James G. Daseant of Pittsburgh.

Township Discusses Road-Building Plans

Washington township road supervisors last night focused their discussion on road building projects which total 1.5 miles.

A span of dirt road, nine tenths of a mile in length, running from Bechtelsville to Heydt's school will be blacktopped next week weather permitting.

When this link is completed there will be an uninterrupted hard road from Bechtelsville to Heydt's school.

Also supervisor reported plans to blacktop six tenths of a mile of road, which runs from the intersection of a dirt link with the Bechtelsville (Conco) road toward Looe's store.

When these projects are completed the township will have seven of 33 miles of road it maintains blacktopped.

Directors Clayton West, Ammon B. Hoffman and William W. Becker were present at the session in the Barco Fire company hall.

Spitsbergen has been the base for such noted Northern explorers as Andrew Wellman, Perry Byrd, Amundson, Ellsworth, Noble and Wilkins.

PLAYGROUNDS —

ext dogs, cats, fish, rabbits and other pets.

DOG AND CAT owners will also compete to see which animals have the shortest tails, the longest tails and which are the best cared for.

But by far the part of the show which is expected to attract the most attention is the miscellaneous category.

Here prize will be given for the pet which is the largest, the most unusual, the best costumed, the funniest and the most original.

BONNIE HERRINGER was the center of attraction yesterday at the Hiller 1 playground—at least the object she held in her hand was.

Bonnie had found a robin's egg on the way to the playground and although the egg had already hatched many of the children had never seen the beautiful blue of a robin's egg before and they gathered about her to get a glimpse.

Philip Carter at Hillcrest industriously worked at weaving a lanyard to hold his bicycle lock key.

Fascinated by the art of work in a pump and eager to fasten his key to the end of the lanyard Philip worked hard all day yesterday trying to complete his project.

He smiled broadly when he completed the lanyard.

His smile faded as he searched through his pockets for the key—he had lost it.

WITH THE advent of cooler weather the boys and girls of Hiller 1 playground have resorted to and I didn't even have enough games, which were put aside last week.

Yesterday the girls played the boys a seven inning game of kick ball. For the first few innings it looked as though the girls were masters of the game but the boys rallied in the latter innings and trounced the girls 27 to 13.

Captain of the boys team was David Handley. His team members were Richard Berger, Butch Keen, Muriel Bechtel, Richard King, Larry Daylor and George McClain.

Captain of the girls team was Ellen Lehman. Her teammates were Dore Daylor, Judy Handley, Ivar Tornabene, Judy Dillman, Barbara Borge, Patsy Glutz and Susan Schoenly.

THE CHILDREN of the Tot Lot busied themselves yesterday with making invitations for the pet show today.

The young boys and girls traced pictures of animals on construction paper and colored them.

Butch Manthorne had a goal in mind when he colored a dog, which he had traced on gray construction paper to resemble the dalmatian mascot (Cappy) of the Empire Hook and Ladder company.

WATER PRESSURE —

Partial ending of the two week ban of lawn sprinkling ordered by Borough Manager Doug I. Sears may have contributed to the low pressure residents believe Sears reported Monday night lawn could be sprinkled from 5 p. m. to 9 a. m. daily.

Mrs. Edward A. Monaghan, Linden apartments, said she had no water at all around 9 o'clock.

I came home with my children and I didn't even have enough water to wash them, she asserted.

The only water was in the refrigerator.

A 10:30 p. m. check revealed adequate pressure.

MRS. JOHN LAVELLE, Linden apartments, said she had no water from a few minutes before 9 o'clock until 10:30 when pressure picked up.

Just a few drops dripped from the faucet when I turned it on earlier in the evening. It's back to normal now," she added.

Mrs. Joseph L. James, Linden apartments, said: "I had good water at 8 o'clock and I have good water pressure now (10:45 o'clock) but there wasn't a drop around 9 o'clock."

J. P. Nimmacher, Maple Gardens, said: "Pressure was very low around 9 o'clock. We had only a little water then. He said by 11 o'clock pressure was back to normal."

Thomas A. Henry, Maple Gardens, said a few minutes before 11 o'clock: "Our pressure is good now and we're located in one of the highest spots in Maple Gardens."

CARLO M. SILVESTRI, Maple Gardens, reported: "We couldn't take a bath at all upstairs last night (Monday night). I don't know about tonight. The pressure is okay right now."

Eugene D. Webster, Maple Gardens, said: "We had plenty of water around 8:30 o'clock when the youngsters was put to bed."

Sears imposed the ban on sprinkling several weeks ago when pressure in the highest North End sections of the borough dropped to an alarming low.

Fence Jumping Cow Yet Roams at Large

It has been five days since the few month old brown Swiss heifer belonging to A. H. Livingston, Perkasieville RD. hopped over a five foot barbed wire fence and seemingly disappeared into thin air.

The owners think the youthful bovine is somewhere in the deep woods which surround their home enjoying herself on Summer greens.

Livingston has ranged the woods and the back roads for the animal without success. Neighbors who have been on the lookout for the heifer also report no trace of the cow.

Sometimes stray cattle venture into someone else's herd but after checking the Livingsons are convinced the heifer has not sought the company of strangers.

The heifer which jumped the fence this past Friday can be identified by a two and a half foot tie chain around its neck.

Hot Debate Is Waged In Senate on Fair Trade

WASHINGTON, July 1 (U.S.) — Crisis of filibuster arose in the Senate tonight as opponents of fair trade legislation refused to agree to any limitations on debate.

The Senate clapped down two efforts by Sen. Douglas (D Ill.) to kill the House passed bill. It quit for the day after a session that lasted until nearly 11 p. m. local time without taking action. The Senate will meet at 10 a. m. (Pottstown time) tomorrow to contribute the hot debate.

Sen. Long (D La.) said he would have objected if Morse hadn't beat him to it.

Youth to Pay Court Costs of $15 Before He Will Be Released

A 20-year-old youth accused by the Citizens National bank of attempting to finance the purchase of an automobile under false pretenses will be released under his own recognizance upon payment of $15 court costs.

Donald A. Del Rossi, of West Chester RD 3, gave his age as 23 when he borrowed $500 from the bank.

He used the money to make a down payment on a 1958 convertible, and made arrangements to finance the rest of the price—over $1000—with J. F. Merrigan Finance Company in Reading.

Del Rossi signed and transferred the title of the car to the Citizens National bank yesterday on the condition that he be released.

HE SIGNED a bond which will release him after he pays court costs, and he further promised to pay for damages incurred on the car while it was in his possession.

A preliminary estimate fixed the cost of repairs at about $125.

Del Rossi is being held pending payment of the $15 costs.

Birdsboro Soldier Reported Wounded In Korean Fighting

Sgt. First Class John S. Kuznar, 26, of Birdsboro, RD 2, was reported wounded in Korea recently when he was hit in both legs and hips by fragments of a mortar shell.

He is now in a hospital in Japan awaiting removal to the United States.

Kuznar married the former Geraldine Kissmiller of Birdsboro RD 2 the past Oct. 4.

The couple is expecting a child next month.

THOUGH HE is only 26 years old, Kuznar has seen more than six years service in the Army. He also was in the Navy over three years during World War II.

Most of his time in the Navy was spent in the European theater where he participated in several major campaigns.

He received the Purple Heart in that theater when his ship was struck by a floating mine.

His ship later received the Navy unit citation.

He remained a civilian for a few months after his discharge from the Navy before joining the Army.

Former Union Head Treated in Hospital

Mrs. Katie Pomponio, 620 Chestnut street, former president of Local 138, Amalgamated Garment Workers (CIO), last night was reported in "satisfactory" condition in Memorial hospital.

The former union leader was admitted to the hospital this past Sunday morning for observation.

Dr. William C. Bown, Norris town physician treating Mrs. Pomponio, said last night a series of tests are being made to determine her ailment.

He pronounced her condition "satisfactory" and added more would be known on the case in several days.

Mrs. Pomponio was a member of Local 138 from its founding and for a number of years served as union president.

For the past several years she had been a floor lady in a Philadelphia jacket factory. She had been in good health until the recent illness.

Obituaries

MAURICE SNYDER, POTTSTOWN RD 3, who died Sunday, is also survived by a sister Anna, wife of Neuman Stengel, Bally. Her name was inadvertently not included with Mr. Snyder's other survivors.

Services for MORACE E. CHRISTIAN, of the Montgomery County Institution, near Black Rock, were held from a funeral home at 210 North York street, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Officiating was the Rev. John B. Frantz, pastor of Trinity Reformed church. Interment was made in Fairview cemetery, Bovertown.

Bearers were Raymond S. Carle, Eugene F. Rudy, John E. Johnson and Bernard J. Kopicki.

Services for TAMSON (BREIDENBAUGH) TRACE, widow of John Trace, 425 WEST RACE STREET, STOWE, were held from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Officiating was the Rev. Arthur S. Hanson, pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran church, Stowe.

Interment was made in St. Paul's cemetery, Amityville.

Bearers were George Trace, Robert Trace, Edward Horner, Jack Horner, Stanley Axsmith, and Nathan Murray.

Warns France

In an exclusive interview with International News Service in Cairo, Emir Abdel Krim el Khattabi, veteran Rif warrior, declares the French must grant "complete independence" to North African Muslims, or risk a war in which "the Communists surely would take our side." And, he said, "Believe me, we would not refuse such assistance."

Eden Renninger, Sassafrasville, enjoyed a trip to Woodsonville, Va., where they visited Erb's brother, George Erb.

Ronan Fritz returned home from Pinebrook, Percy Crawford's camp in the Poconos, where he spent a week.

An outdoor meeting of the Friendship Circle was enjoyed on the lawn at the home of Mary Ann Adams. The topic "Keep off the Grass" was read by Miss Adams. Plans were made for an outing at Kutztown pool on July 19. Refreshments were served on the lawn. A watermelon party also was enjoyed.

The Boy Scouts of the village under the leadership of Ard Barr spent a week end camping at Hopeville.

The following were in the party: Ralph B. Mauger, Thomas Caslor, Herschel Erb, John Spade and Robert Spade.

Prisoner of War Fuss

WHAT'S all the hullabaloo about returning North Korean war prisoners? Caesar, Hannibal, and even the generals of the American Civil War would be astounded could they know of the agreements made by modern civilized nations to protect prisoners of war, for until the end of the past century little but the whim of the victor governed the fate of the captured enemy.

Wars of extermination in which no prisoners were taken occurred in ancient and medieval times. The Romans usually made slaves of defeated soldiers. As late as 1790, some governments held their prisoners for ransom.

The French humanitarians Montesquieu and Rousseau are given credit for advancing the thesis that soldiers who lay down their arms are entitled to life and humane treatment. The civilized nations of the world drew up a prisoner code at The Hague in 1899 and despite frequent lapses, have honored it in general ever since.

The Hague Convention has been reviewed and modernized periodically. One such revision produced in 1929 the so-called Geneva Convention, growing out of the fact that the Central Powers took advantage of loopholes in the old instrument during World War II. Russia never signed the 1929 Convention. The result has been a wrangle between the Soviet Union and the Western Nations concerning the fate of thousands of German and Japanese soldiers who disappeared into Russia during World War II.

But the Soviet Union, with 60 other nations, is a signatory to the current Geneva Convention, drawn up in 1949 to correct abuses discovered between 1940 and 1945. The United Nations forces, at least, scrupulously adhere to the Convention in Korea.

One reason Koj's murderous mutineers were treated more mildly than many thought they should have been was the code's ban on mass reprisals. The Convention also says prisoners must be given decent housing, nourishing food and the right to communicate with their families.

They may not be punished for trying to escape or refusing to answer questions of a military nature. They are guaranteed medical care, freedom of worship, exercise, and the opportunity to participate in sports and intellectual pastimes.

Enlisted captives can be worked but must be paid for their labor. Such labor may not further their enemy's war effort. It is forbidden to insult or humiliate them, or to take from them their personal property, their decorations and their insignia of rank.

A major Geneva stipulation requires the nations to give the enemy complete and accurate lists of his soldiers taken in battle. This provision, a part of the 1929 agreement, led to the East-West impasse on Axis captives, for the Soviet Union furnished no lists.

Take Time to Be Safe

THE long Fourth of July week end again will pose the usual problems of safety, convenience and patience, for many Pottstown motorists traveling over the highways of the nation.

The vast flow of vehicles, certain to be one of the greatest of the year and one of the greatest in motoring history, will clog virtually every road leading to the mountains, seashore points and other resorts. And this tremendous cascade of cars will considerably increase the danger to all, percentage-wise.

Hundreds of motorists and their passengers died in highway accidents over the three-day Memorial Day holiday this year. "If that terrible and highly unnecessary toll is to be cut down appreciably over the July 4 holiday all who drive anywhere during those three days must be certain that their cars are in the best possible mechanical shape, observe every common-sense rule of the road, and practice courtesy and patience at all times.

Strict observance of speed limits and all posted regulations and the policy of looking out for the other fellow will be of the utmost importance to everyone on the highways. Early starts and leisurely driving also are essential safety factors, particularly on such a travel congested holiday, and roundabout routes or even back roads should prove more desirable—and certainly less dangerous—routes to many of the popular places.

The motorist more than ever will be personally responsible for his own safety and the safety of countless others along the road. Be prepared, be courteous, be patient—and be safe.

Borough Can't 'Bother' Protecting Swimmers

Manateway Is Dangerous

To the Editor: Everytime my son says he's going swimming, my stomach drops out. I can't say no. Yet I'm afraid he won't come back.

With so many drownings around here, I'm just frightened to death.

Every afternoon, when I hear him coming up the front steps, I say a silent prayer of thanks.

Maybe I'm silly. But I think it's a miracle that the boy returns. Who is to watch him but the Lord?

There was some talk some years ago about the borough providing lifeguard protection at the Manateway swimming hole. There was a drowning there. So what happened? Borough authorities heartlessly banned swimming instead of being big about it and putting guards on duty.

Since that time I have heard nothing about protected swimming for these youngsters. That's why I worry every day. It's a great relief when my little boy comes home alive.

Can't the women of our town make themselves heard in a try to get life guards at our playground? Maybe we could get volunteers if our borough authorities still think it's more humane to shut off swimming than to give our boys and girls a normal chance to grow up happy.

Protect the Children

To the Editor: In Monday's issue of The Mercury there appeared a story which shocked me very much. It concerned a small boy who was lost for one whole day, and the remarks made by his mother to one of your reporters.

It said that the boy had been missing before, and had not been found one time until midnight, and then by a neighbor. The mother also said that she feared the boy might have been caught in a swamp that reached to his father's hips.

Doesn't it seem that such swamps should be cleaned out? The next time, the child could really be caught in it, and never seen again.

Then, too, I think parents should try to help children with the run-away bug. There is a deep rooted reason for everything a child does. I can't blame her for not spanking the boy.

What he needs is to be talked to, understood, questioned kindly, and then the problem would be solved.

In this day and age, there is no excuse for parents who let their children play outdoors without checking on them regularly. A look out the back or front window is all that's necessary.

It doesn't take a lot of nagging—and saves a lot of grief in the long run.

Whether you have one or 12 children, an empty chair at the dinner table can be sad.

Pottstown A LONELY MOTHER

Double Parkers Dangerous

To the Editor: You are always fighting against discrimination and the big shots who get away with special privileges in this town. So maybe you can do something about double parking on High street. Who gets away with this?

I'm a close observer. When I see the parking policeman come around and deliberately pass up double parkers, walk around their cars and then put a red tag on an automobile that's a minute overparked, I get mad.

I consider the over-parking violation a lot less dangerous than double parking. Nobody can get hurt because the man or woman parked the car a minute over the limit. But think of all the dangers that are set up by the double parker! Who is the worst offender?

It's about time somebody gives out some orders at borough hall. There's something in doing a job. And there's something in doing a job right, in the way that will benefit most people.

Pottstown SIDEWALK WATCHER

WASHINGTON GOP Vice President May Be Sen. Knowland

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, July 1—Senator William F. Knowland of California looks like a "natural" for the Republican vice-presidential nomination, whether the head of the ticket be Senator Taft or General Eisenhower. He appears to be the key piece in the puzzle of how to turn out the Democrats.

The handsome 44-year-old Oakland publisher has made an excellent record and impression on Capitol Hill. He is liked on both sides of the aisle. He is a hard worker and an effective speaker. He knows the Far West's problems—power, water, reclamation and conservation in general—as neither of the leading candidates do.

Indeed, a Knowland nomination is almost a Republican "must." Franklin D. Roosevelt's land and water program has almost converted this vast empire into Democratic terrain in national contests. Truman's share-the-wealth proposals appeal to elderly emigrants from Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas. Not even Governor Earl Warren, as Dewey's sidekick, could carry his own state four years ago.

Instead of trying to crack the "solid South," the GOP needs to recapture the West.

LEADER: Knowland's great showing in the recent senatorial primaries, when he won both Republican and Democratic nominations, has removed him from the protective shadow of Governor Warren, his original sponsor. He will be a leader in his own right at Chicago.

Both Bob and Ike deny that they seek to reduce Knowland in the hope of making a deal for California's 10 delegates, now pledged to Warren. But since this big batch could easily determine the presidential nominee, strategists in both camps admit frankly that this consideration enters their minds.

A Knowland selection would give political balance and reinforcement to the ticket, no matter who heads it. Here is how party statisticians figure it from the standpoint of politics rather than personalities:

If Eisenhower becomes the Republican offering, it is believed that he has a good chance of sweeping the northeastern section. The forecasters allocate to him almost all the New England states, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland.

But, he might run poorly in the Middle West, where his views on foreign affairs are not too popular. Nor has he yet formulated a farm policy that matches the Truman-Brannan schemes in vote-getting power.

Senator Taft has promised to support Ike, if the latter needs him out. But the Ohioan's friends and organization workers may not exert their utmost importance to everyone on the highways. Early starts and leisurely driving also are essential safety factors, particularly on such a travel congested holiday, and roundabout routes or even back roads should prove more desirable—and certainly less dangerous—routes to many of the popular places.

The motorist more than ever will be personally responsible for his own safety and the safety of countless others along the road. Be prepared, be courteous, be patient—and be safe.

ASSET: Under such circumstances, Eisenhower might have to compensate for these losses of electoral votes beyond the Rockies—the coastal and mountain states. Nobody could do him more good there than Knowland, in the smart politicians' opinion.

The Oakland man has another asset peculiarly essential to an Eisenhower slate. As a Californian, he has taken a deep interest in the crisis in the Far East, where Ike seems to have a blind spot. The senator advocates a more aggressive and constructive action in the Orient, and is not unsympathetic to the MacArthur viewpoint.

Finally, the Californian is under no obligation not to identify the Democrats regarded as responsible for the blunders at Yalta, Teheran, Potsdam and in Korea. Eisenhower may carry his reluctance to name names too far.

Jottings in Pencil

TEXANS ARE BUZZING over a report that Samia Gamal, nautch-dancer bride of Sheppard W. King III, is knitting tiny garments for an early 1953 arrival. A Hollywood actor noted for his screen portrayals of clergymen has been put on a six months' suspension at the Lambs Club for conduct unbecoming a gentleman.

Bette Davis will be making big TV news soon. She's about to sign for a weekly dramatic series in which she will play a judge. The show will be on film. Will Jason, a West Coast writer-director, is closing the deal and will do the scripting.

Cafe owner Monte Proser is in Midtown Hospital with a bad case of poison oak. Ethel Smith's constant companion on the Champs Elvisees is Maurice Chevalier. They started reviving that old feeling as soon as she hit Parer.

HALF OF Hollywood is engaged in guessing who Glenn Ford has in mind as his next bride. Most popular guess: Geraldine Brooks. Ginger Rogers introduces a new fashion note in "We're Not Married"—wears a corsage on the left shoulder of the BACK of her suit. (That'll do, girl. Case dismissed. Just don't let it happen again.)

Cecil Beaton is knee deep in swatches that match the Garbo personality. He's decorating Greta's canary. In blowing her top over the way other girl singers—particularly Pearl Bailey—she says—have taken over her show-stopping special material since she recorded it for an album. Doesn't think she can do anything about it legally, but she's hopping mad. Fourth Estate note. In Moscow press reports, Eisenhower, Taft and Harriman are under attack but there's no mention of Kefauver. (Haven't they heard of television?)

Barbara Stanwyck and Nancy Sinatra are sponsoring the first of Moccambo's "Hokey Pokey" galas next Monday night. That's a new group dance. NOT expected to replace hanky panky. Mickey Rooney telling pals he'll go back to London when Autumn rolls around—and if possible make a stage appearance.

ANN MILLER HAS taken over with Travis Kleefeld where Jane Wyman left off. Kurt Kasznar left Hollywood for N. Y. this a. m. and his marriage to Leora Dana.

Marilyn Monroe, despite all the hokey printed won't be available for Jerry Wald's production, "Size 12"—so he's thinking about giving Margaret Sheridan some special glamour-treatment and handing her the Monroe role. Wald still hopes to lose Joan Crawford, Ursula Thiess and Barbara Stanwyck into this same opus. (He can dream, can't he?) MacDonald Carey is out of "Never Wave at a Wac"—and Paul Douglas replaces him opposite Ronald Russell. Tamara Toumanova, the latest to wind up in "To Night We Sing", flew to Europe.

LEASE HOTEL—Paul L. Knoll and Leroy A. Fell, Pottstown young men, have leased the Bramante hotel. The hotel will be renovated. Dances and shows will be held there.

CIRCUS—A juvenile circus was held at the premises of Eli Moyer, 618 Willow street, by children of that section of the borough. The affair was attended by a large number of parents and friends of the kiddies.

FOUND DEAD—William F. Spatz, 64, last of four brothers who operated meat stores in Pottstown for the past 50 years, was found dead in the office of his South Evans street store. He was a victim of a heart attack.

RESIGNS POST—David J. F. Bechtel, Chestnut street, has resigned as custodian of the Odd Fellows building on King street. He served for 21 years in that capacity. In 1914 he erected the large three story building and he also erected the State Armory which is located opposite.

REUNION—The 11th annual Swinhart family reunion was held at the old homestead near Nantico with a large attendance.

25 Years Ago July 2, 1927 FINE RECORD—Charles Blum, son of Jacob Blum, 211 Jefferson avenue, has a perfect record of attendance and punctuality during his seven years of school attendance here.

DEATH—David J. Wendling, 26, who was an engineer at the Ellis Keystone Agricultural works for six years, died at his home, 250 Lincoln avenue. He was a son of Solomon Wendling.

NEW OFFICERS—The Cedarville Literary society elected the following officers: Lloyd Smale, president; Francis W. Hunsberger, vice president; Olive Halderman, secretary; Harry Fisher, treasurer; Ethel High, critic; Kendrick Clay, reporter; and Bertha Fox, pianist.

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, July 1—Constance Smith, the pretty Irish gal, left her first fiancée "waiting at the church" when she wed Byron Forbes. Then these two combined a honeymoon and start of her 20th-Fox contract only few months ago. It's all over awed and she's dating the field.

Bill Hayes, familiar m. c. and singer on the Sid Caesar-Imogene Coca TV show, is headed this way for the third lead in "Back to Broadway" Jane Wyman decided not to do the yarn, so Virginia Mayo and Steve Cochran wind up as the stars. Lina Romay and wealthy Secondo Guastini bloom this week.

Anta Bjork, the Swedish delight, signed by Darryl Zanuck recently is doing her first English language picture, "Memory of Love" in Sweden (She won't hit Filmville till Fall). Bob Snaford, who's directing is maaaaaad about Celeste Holm, and will try to finish in time to catch Celeste's opening in "The King and I" in N. Y.

NANNETTE FABRAY and Freddie de Cordova, a couple at The Castle (that's an eatery, not an address). Edgar Bergen this week starts producing a series of half-hour TV films—in and around Denver. All his famed dummy-kerrickers will be with him in these comedy-travelogues. Joan Fontaine has switched to the Governor of Granada—at least for public appearance. He takes her to all the Spanish "landangos" lately.

FOLKS OF FAME—GUESS THE NAME

1. This great Greek tragedian and playwright was born about 484 B. C. His first play was titled "Daughters of Pelias," in which the daughters were led by "Medea" to kill their father when trying to rejuvenate him. Others were "The Cyclops," "The Rhesus," "Alceste," "Medea," "Hippolytus," "Andromache," "Hecuba," "Heracles," "Ion," "The Trojan Women," "Electra," and others. His plays were on the stage for 60 years. Can you identify him?

2. This veteran of the stage and movies was born in San Bernardino, Calif., and attended the University of Southern California. He played in stock in California with Marjorie Rambeau. He played Al Jolson's manager in the first talkie ever made, "The Jazz Singer." He is now the star of radio and television's "Rocky King, Detective." What is his name?

YOUR HEALTH By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

A PERSON who finds it hard or painful to swallow will usually find it necessary to visit his doctor, since he will have difficulty in eating. Unfortunately, the first stages of this condition may annoy him too much, so he will delay seeing the doctor at the very time when it would be easiest to cure him.

Difficulty in swallowing is the commonest sign of some disorder in the tube connecting the throat with the stomach. The medical name for this "food pipe" is the esophagus.

Many different disorders can cause this trouble. Sometimes a tumor of the esophagus can block off its passage and prevent normal digestion. Usually, in tumors, the process is slow, so that first the person is unable to take soft foods, and finally cannot even drink liquids.

Another condition that often interferes with swallowing is known as a diverticulum of the esophagus. This is an extra pouch off the tube, which collects foods and prevents normal digestion. An ulcer of the esophagus is another possible complication.

Sometimes, conditions outside the esophagus may cause serious difficulty in swallowing, by putting pressure on the tube from without. A common example is a tumor in the chest cavity. Tuberculosis may sometimes cause the same difficulty, or again, tumors of the lung and glands around the esophagus may be the cause.

When certain blood vessels of the neck and chest have abnormal positions, they, too, can press on the esophagus and make swallowing difficult. This condition, known as malposition, is not infrequently seen.

Whenever you have real difficulty in swallowing, you should have your doctor investigate as soon as possible, so that whatever the cause, it may be corrected before a disease has progressed too far.

Usually, the method of examining the esophagus is with X-rays.

Minister Gets Surprise... Lee in Swan Song...

★ STAGE FREIGHT—The Rev. Carl E. Koppenhaver, Pottstown lad who graduated from The Mercury newspaper to the Lutheran ministry, suffered stage fright—after all these years—Sunday! The Rev. Koppenhaver is an executive of the United Lutheran publications office in Philadelphia, and doubles in brass as a preacher. He was preaching in Brandywine Hundred, a suburb of Wilmington, Del., Sunday. When he prepared to read the Gospel, he looked out into the audience. His glance was stopped by a familiar face. It was that of the former Miss Helen Adams, who was dramatics and art teacher in Pottstown High back in 1931. The Rev. Koppenhaver said he immediately became "voice conscious." The pair had quite a reunion after the service. The former Miss Adams now is Mrs. E. N. Gangewere, wife of a DuPont chemist.

TODAY'S DRUM—To James J. Moore, the Pottstown realtor, goes today's bouquet. Jim was traveling State street in his automobile. Accidentally he injured a dog. It's not known whether the dog ran against the car, or was run over. Moore first was apprised of the accident when he heard a whine of pain. He stopped, picked up the dog, inquired from neighbors whose it was, then went to visit the owner, Gerald Flicker. Moore expressed his regret for the sad accident. Then he visited the Flicker family the next day. The dog unfortunately died, so Moore offered to replace the animal. The family, while appreciative of his sympathy, declined. (This incident was witnessed by a neighbor. Have you an orchid you want to hand out? Phone All Around the Town.)

★ SWAN SONG—When Dr. Daniel Lee presided at a Pottstown Civic club banquet the past Saturday night, it probably was his swan song. Dr. Lee, who has gained quite a reputation locally for his civic interest, has decided to open a medical office in Coatesville. There he will assist Dr. Whittier C. Atkinson, administrator of the Clement Atkinson Memorial hospital. Dr. Lee plans to have evening hours in Coatesville, but will maintain a Pottstown office, and will continue to live here. But his added duties will require him to give up some of his outside work. Arrival in Japan was Pvt. Robert C. Powelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Powelson, Collegeville, RD. 2. Powelson, a member of the Third Armored division of the U. S. Army, sailed from Seattle, Wash.

EVERYTHING TURNS GREEN —If everything looks green to you these days, there's nothing wrong with your eyes. At least 34 different preparations now contain chlorophyll. One childish thing that adults fail to put away is marbles. They're used in metalworking to make big pieces slide easily along bottoms of cleaning tanks, and in the same way, to slide coffins into crypts. Marbles help produce the proper finish on copper plates, and gleam in safety highway signs. And grown-up men toss them into fish hatcheries where, for reasons the magazine doesn't pretend to understand, marbles stimulate spawning.

★ EAU DE GARBAGE—Now there's perfume for garbage pails! A new perfume, in cake form, is attached to the lid and repels flies and roaches in addition to perfuming the air. Of all the women workers in the country today, and they're nearly as numerous as during World War II, a little better than half are married and another 16 percent are widowed or divorced. The experts have now decided that the average human being has a working efficiency of only 16.3 percent based on a 24 hour day. In other words, about 16 percent of the average human being's life is productive. Glad the Fourth of July Vacation is coming up!

YOUR HEALTH By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

A PERSON who finds it hard or painful to swallow will usually find it necessary to visit his doctor, since he will have difficulty in eating. Unfortunately, the first stages of this condition may annoy him too much, so he will delay seeing the doctor at the very time when it would be easiest to cure him.

Difficulty in swallowing is the commonest sign of some disorder in the tube connecting the throat with the stomach. The medical name for this "food pipe" is the esophagus.

Many different disorders can cause this trouble. Sometimes a tumor of the esophagus can block off its passage and prevent normal digestion. Usually, in tumors, the process is slow, so that first the person is unable to take soft foods, and finally cannot even drink liquids.

Another condition that often interferes with swallowing is known as a diverticulum of the esophagus. This is an extra pouch off the tube, which collects foods and prevents normal digestion. An ulcer of the esophagus is another possible complication.

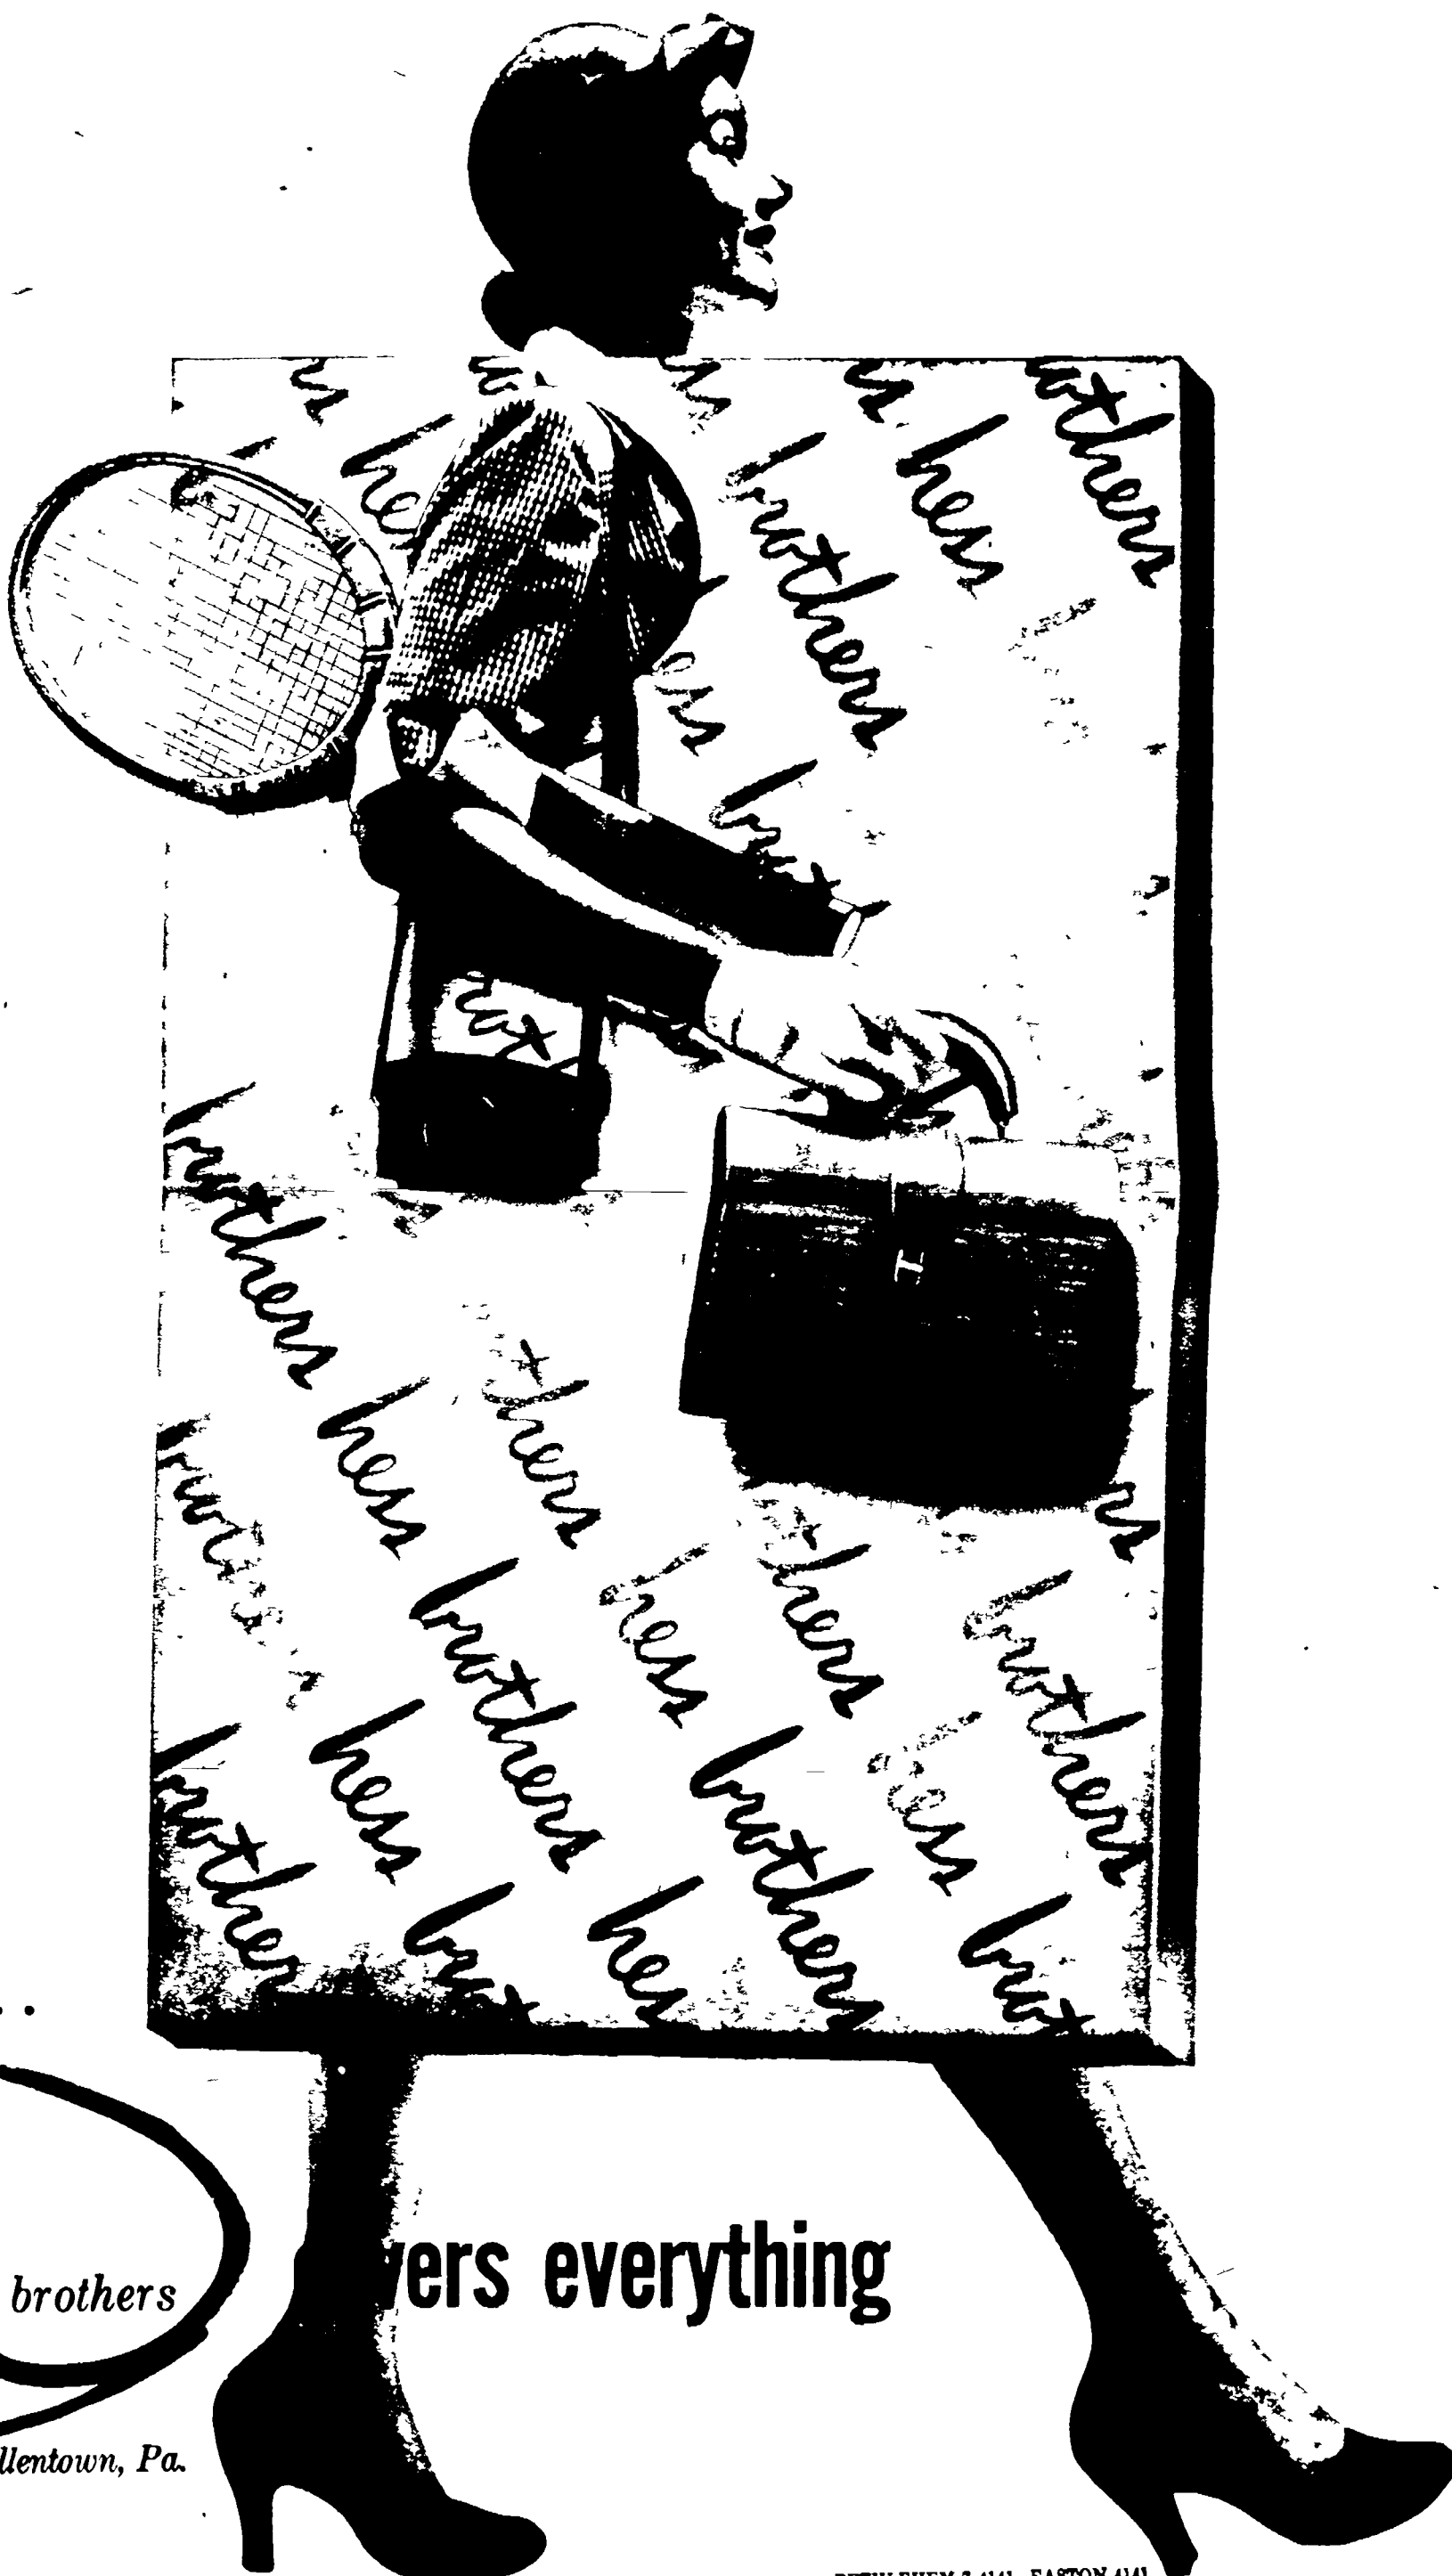

Sometimes, conditions outside the esophagus may cause serious difficulty in swallowing, by putting pressure on the tube from without. A common example is a tumor in the chest cavity. Tuberculosis may sometimes cause the same difficulty, or again, tumors of the lung and glands around the esophagus may be the cause.

When certain blood vessels of the neck and chest have abnormal positions, they, too, can press on the esophagus and make swallowing difficult. This condition, known as malposition, is not infrequently seen.

Whenever you have real difficulty in swallowing, you should have your doctor investigate as soon as possible, so that whatever the cause, it may be corrected before a disease has progressed too far.

Usually, the method of examining the esophagus is with X-rays.

18 Cars Derailed In Collision

Here's a closeup of the wreckage of a freight train collision on the Grand Trunk and Western Railroad at Pottstown, Mich. in which six crewmen were injured. Eighteen cars were derailed and almost a half mile of rails torn up when the two trains met head on.

Suspect Wounded In Escape Attempt

NEW YORK, July 1 (U)—A burglar suspect leaped 18 feet from a second floor window today in a desperate bid for freedom. Police bullets brought him down, badly wounded.

Two women in buildings along his escape route were wounded by stray bullets. One was a 19-year-old expectant mother visiting here from Puerto Rico. The other was a bookkeeper seated at her desk.

The man, William Colton, 23, flung open a window and leaped to the ground from the second floor of Bronx Magistrate's court as he was awaiting arraignment on a burglary charge. Two detectives leaping far out the window to fire after him hit him in the back and leg. He was recaptured about a block distant.

Mrs. Anna Maria Alera, the expectant mother, leaped from a window to see what the shooting was about. She was hit in the thigh.

If bookkeeper Miss Pauline Weidt, 26, was wounded in the chest. But she walked calmly to an ambulance.

Senate Committee Okays Voting for 18-Year-Olds

WASHINGTON, July 1 (U)—The Senate Judiciary committee today stamped its approval today on a constitutional amendment that would give voting privileges to all those 18 or over.

The constitutional change to let teen-agers vote would apply to both State and Federal elections. It was approved by voice on a motion also of Connellville.

by Sen. Kilgore (D-W.Va.) To become effective the amendment would have to be approved by a two-thirds majority in both the House and the Senate and by three-fourths of the states.

Youth Sprains Back Lifting Bag of Barley

A 17-year-old Parkerford boy collapsed at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon while lifting a bag of barley weighing about 100 pounds on the farm of Cuthbert Nairn, Douglassville RD 1.

William McKee was taken to Memorial hospital and admitted after he complained of constricted pains in his back and was unable to walk. The hospital said he has a possible bad sprain in his back.

He was employed at Black wood farm, Nairn's property, since June 8.

Nairn said that the boy had been lifting bags of barley from a conveyor all day yesterday, and that McKee had helped to fill his granary ever since he began working at the farm.

McKee HAD SUDDENLY dropped when he was pulling a bag across the floor of the granary and could not rise, Nairn said.

Other employees of the farm carried McKee to the front lawn of the farm house and called the Goodwill ambulance.

Grange Will Debate Holiday Observances

Is Independence Day better observed and enjoyed as a holiday than Memorial Day?

That question will be debated by members of the Saxatoga Grange during a meeting in the Grange hall tonight at 8 o'clock.

Marcus Barrett will defend Independence Day and Elmer Saylor will support Memorial Day. Three judges will decide who has presented the best arguments.

Members will also present patriotic talks and readings during the meeting which will be under the direction of Worth Matler, Ve non Rapp.

Get Summer Clothes Of Reliable Denim For Work and Play

Garments nowadays are styled for special uses. In the Summer time more attention is given to work and play clothes than any other type. You see blue or black jeans, sports shirts in dark or bright colors and in large or small plaids or checks. Mrs. Della Short home economics extension representative Montgomery county says to look for the all occasion denims. You can find them in a variety of colors and many styles ranging from brief shorts and sleeveless blouses to wrap over dresses and businesslike over suits. An other favorite dress this season is the bright or dark ground calico print made up into a pleated knee dress or skirt.

Work clothes need sturdy materials simply but durably made. They should be easy to get into and out of, easy to wash and iron. See that they fit well with enough ease for bending and reaching. Something else to watch for in work clothes is not only that they fit well but that they are not too loose. Work clothes should not be so full as to catch under heels or toes when stooping.

Watch the pockets and trimmings on your work clothes. They should be so placed and so flat that they won't catch on door knobs or furniture. A princess style dress is one without a belt or sash, one might wear for work. On any dress use a belt instead of a sash with a bow that may catch or dangle into things.

Play clothes, or those for leisure hours and lounging, may be more extreme or elaborate. In these you could include some of the features that are unfashionable in work clothes, says Mrs. Short. Both play and work clothes may be made of the same types of materials — denims, sailcloth, broadcloth, chambray and seersucker.

Pretty Setting for Lee-Noel Wedding

Miss Marguerite Noel and Mr. Harold Lee were united in marriage recently in the Methodist church of Spring City by the Rev. Charles Salkeld pastor.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Noel Sr. and Mr. Lee is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lee both families of Spring City.

Organ music was presented by Mrs. Joseph Ferrara organist and Mrs. Carl Hunsberger vocal soloist.

THE BRIDE given in marriage by her father wore a strapless ballroom length gown of nylon net over taffeta with a bolero jacket applied with daisies as was the full skirt. Her fingertip length veil fell from a cap of white satin and she carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Mrs. James Noel was matron of honor in a gown of yellow nylon over taffeta styled like the bride's. She also carried white daisies.

Brother of the bridegroom, Mr. H. Blaine Lee served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Russell Lee brother of the bridegroom and Mr. James Noel brother of the bride.

A lawn reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for members of the immediate families and relatives. After the couple returns from a honeymoon of an undisclosed destination they will reside at 2 North Main street, Spring City.

A dress that can live as many Summer lies as you choose is this one of Bianchini's pure silk cocoa chiffon designed by Jane Derby. Worn with a hat for dressy evenings without one as an ethereal short formal ideal for the Summer vacationer. The bodice has two layers of chiffon that criss cross under the bustline and tie at one shoulder in a fluff. Chiffon bow. For dancing magic the skirt is a wide circle of shimmering sheer silk. Slip of matching silk taffeta. Something the Summer traveler appreciates is the fact that he dresses packs easily and is light in weight.
